Where we share your personal data with someone who is a supplier or service provider, we have taken steps to ensure that they treat your personal data in a way that meets the requirements of the GDPR.

Youth support services – pupils aged 13+

Once our pupils reach the age of 13, we are legally required to pass on certain information about them to the Local Authority in which the school is located, as it has legal responsibilities regarding the education or training of 13–19-year-olds.

This information enables it to provide youth support services, post-16 education and training services, and careers advisers.

Parents/carers, or pupils once aged 16 or over, can contact our data protection officer to request that we only pass the individual’s name, address and date of birth to the Local Authority.

Youth support services – pupils aged 16+ We will also share certain information about pupils aged 16+ with our local authority and / or provider of youth support services as they have responsibilities in relation to the education or training of 13–19-year-olds under section 507B of the Education Act 1996.

This enables them to provide services as follows:

- post-16 education and training providers
- youth support services
- careers advisers

A child / pupil once they reach the age of 16 can object to only their name, address and date of birth is passed to their local authority or provider of youth support services by informing us.

Data is securely transferred to the youth support service via secure methods and is stored securely and held for the time as defined in our Data Retention Policy.

For more information about services for young people, please visit our local authority website. National Pupil Database We are required to provide information about pupils to the Department for Education as part of statutory data collections such as the school census and early year's census under.

National Pupil Database

We are required to provide information about pupils to the Department for Education as part of statutory data collections such as the school census and early year's census under regulation 5 of The Education (Information About Individual Pupils) (England) Regulations 2013.

Some of this information is then stored in the National Pupil Database \(NPD\), which is owned and managed by the Department of Education and provides evidence on school performance to inform research.

The database is held electronically so it can easily be turned into statistics. The information is securely collected from a range of sources including schools, local authorities and exam boards.

The Department for Education may share information from the NPD with other organisations which promote children's education or wellbeing in England. Such organisations must agree to strict terms and conditions about how they will use the data.

For more information, see the Department's webpage on how it collects and shares research data. You can also contact the Department for Education with any further questions about the NPD.

Your rights to your personal data

You have rights relating to the personal data that we collect and use. The rights you have depend on the legal basis of us using the information. If we are using your personal data based on your consent, you can withdraw that consent and we will stop using that personal data. Withdrawing your consent will need to be recorded in writing, please contact the Data Protection Officer.

The right to be informed:

If you ask us, we must tell you if we are collecting or using your personal data.

If we are collecting or using your personal data, you have:

The right of access to your personal data

You have the right to view the personal data that we hold about you, to receive a copy of the data and to be given more information about the data including any transfer to countries who do not fall under the requirements of the GDPR.

Some information we hold cannot be accessed in this way. If you ask for information that is not available, there may be other ways of accessing it and we can help you.

To have access to your personal data we will need to collect details of what you want and in the first instance you can contact the Data Protection Officer whose details can be found at the end of this Privacy Notice.

Other rights

You also have rights to ask us to correct inaccurate personal data, to ask us to stop using it or to object to us using it. For some data you may have the right to ask us to erase it, to provide it in an electronic format that you can give to someone else. For some personal data if we are subjecting it to automated decision making then you have the right to object to this and request that a person is involved.

You will be given full details of these rights if you request access to your personal data or you can ask the Data Protection Officer.

Parents or Guardian's rights to access your personal data

For pupils in Year 7, we will usually ask your parents or guardian to confirm that you can access the personal data. We will also provide your personal data to your parents or guardian if they request it.

Once you reach Year 8, we will usually consider that you can make decisions about your personal data. This means that in most cases you can request access to your personal data and we will not ask your parents for their permission. It also means that we will not normally release your personal data to your parents or guardian without your permission.

There may be occasions where we need to provide personal data to your parents or guardian without your consent. These are likely to occur if there is a concern about your safety. We may also release personal data if your behaviour creates concern for the safety or progress of others.

We will still need to ask permission from your parents or guardian for you to take part in some school and extra-curricular activities. The requirement for this permission overrides the protection of your personal data.

We are required to provide your parents or guardian with an annual report of your progress at school. We will offer the opportunity for your parents or guardian to come into school to discuss this report with your teachers and other members of staff.

At the start of each school year, we will ask you if you are willing for these reports to be sent more often, but you do not have to give this permission.

If you wish to submit a subject access request or freedom of information request, then please contact the named data protection lead at the bottom of this privacy notice.
